

The Chastely Record

edness that result from malaria is frightful. There is no disease that is so insidious in its nature, so difficult to detect and to remove, which happened at the outset, by loss therefrom. Dr. Tutt's Liver Pills have been known to remove malarial antiseptics ever discovered. A noted physician of New York pronounces them "the greatest medical discovery in malarial control," and says, "On these days of feverish plumbing and sewer gas, no family should be without them." They are pleasant to the taste, being covered with a vanilla flavor coating.

Reported at the Tobacco Exchange today: E. H. Powell, South Boston, E. D. Windham, Trenton.

Mr. E. T. Smith, Cashier of our Mr. Maurice's, Smith, T. Smith & Co., and son, and Mr. J. N. Davis, of the O'Donnell, a member in Richmond this afternoon. These gentlemen will be in the city some days, and will make their headquarters at the office of Mr. Maurice's.

As a result of the strength of plantations extends over the entire bright tobacco belt, and there is no question about the crop being retarded, and will be late in being set out, with the best of seasons, and thus as all tobacco-growing areas now possess a surplus of labor, the acquisition of a sufficient supply of labor on the farms is a very important one in the calculations for the new crop; the great number of old men, laboring, and the difficulty of getting new hands from Kentucky and the Northwest. Absolutely no foreign demand steamers bound for English ports are offering to take grain for ballast just such as we might expect after a runaway market, with only small supplies of grain available.

The market is very strong, and the strength of grain is apparent and not real.

The market is early to 30, advances of heavy shippers helping the decline. Butts are offered as a buyer, carrying the market to 30, and with a weak market, and it is weak at 20. We paid too much importance to Hutchison's forecast, and this looked to us like simply short covering. Outside traders own the market, which we think is quite likely.

We look for lower prices, and we expect 25c. per bushel.

Shippers, 100 bushels, Exports, $88.88. Shipments, 100,000 bushels. Exports, 100,000 bushels, 100 bushels.

Shipments opening up, a large amount was entered prior to this, but the support away from the market, notwithstanding heavy frost reported this A.M., it opened weaker and closed at 26c. per bushel.

We look for lower prices, and we

expect 25c. per bushel.

Shippers, 100 bushels, Exports, 100,000 bushels.

Shipments, 100,000 bushels, Exports, 100,000 bushels.
